

with college degrees in Business, Media Studies, and telecommunication I think I have a pretty good understanding of what is right and wrong as well as legal and illegal when it comes to American broadcast media. Sinclair's recent decision to air an decisively anti-Kerry documentary just days before the election is a clear example of these bounds being tested.

You, as the government body tasked with looking out for the true best interest of Americans and controlling access to the country's scarce airways have a mandate to stop such abuse immediately.

I ask you to quickly and decisively act now to end these kinds of outrageous abuses of power.
